

Networking Urban Resources with Teachers and University to enRich Early Childhood Science

Meredith Reinhart
SCIENCE Coaching Assessor

Meredith Reinhart is a SCIENCE Coaching Assessor for the NURTURES grant. She received her Bachelor's degree in K-8 Education and Master's degree in Curriculum and Instruction, both from the University of Toledo. She is currently working on her Ph.D. in Curriculum and Instruction with a concentration in early childhood science and literacy instruction. Before returning to school to pursue her Ph.D., Meredith taught 3rd-grade and provided PreK-5th grade special education services for Sylvania Public Schools. Her areas of interest include environmental science, inquiry-based learning environments, early-childhood science and literacy instruction, and guiding children with exceptionalities.
